

Vacation Locale, Big Bend, Oregon

Returning from a month's vacation trip are Mr. and Mrs. Trygve Kjelland and son Mark of 2619 Apian Way.

First major stopoffs for the trekkers were Hoover Dam and Salt Lake City. Journeying north they struck the Old Oregon Trail and followed it down the Columbia river to Astoria and thence to Big Bend, Oregon and a host of relatives and friends.

On the return jaunt the wayfarers visited the Oregon Caves. The Kjellands especially enjoyed the friendly attitude of the young college student guides and their clever presentation of the caves' interesting history.

10,000 Swimming Awards To Be Given By Red Cross

Ten thousand Red Cross swimming certificates will be issued this summer to boys and girls and young men and women of Los Angeles and vicinity.

And 80 per cent of this total will represent beginners' swimming awards, going to "students" who prior to this year's "Learn to Swim" program—sponsored jointly by the Red Cross and the City Department of Recreation and Parks—could not boast of any water safety achievements.

Since mid-June, the "Learn to Swim" project has been carried on in more than 30 municipal, county, and school pools, including the nearby Biltmore Plunge, Hermosa Beach; Leuzinger, Hollywood Riviera, and Gaffey Plunge, San Pedro, with the morning hours turned over exclusively to free swimming instruction.

"This all-out cooperation by pool managers and directors is fast enabling Los Angeles to maintain its place as one of the top 'water proofing' centers in America," McCoy stated.

In addition to the beginners' certificates, Red Cross is presenting awards to the intermediate class and to advanced swimmers by conducting special tests every Friday morning.

Lomitans Say Alaska Is Beautiful

Mrs. P. M. Petersen, 2324 25th street, accompanied by her small granddaughter, Bonnie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newell H. Brown of the same address, recently returned from Alaska, where Mrs. Petersen visited with her daughter, Mrs. H. V. Lounsbury and three boys, Loren and twins, Jon and Joel.

Leaving Los Angeles June 3, Mrs. Petersen made the first leg of her journey to Seattle by train. Then to Kinzua, Oregon, where she spent some time in the home of another daughter, Mrs. Roger Holloman, and took time out to look up some friends in Portland.

It was at Seattle that Mrs. Petersen and little Bonnie embarked on the SS Aleutian to continue the jaunt toward Anchorage. The travelers report a pleasant boat trip. They say the nearly six hours spent among the 75 passengers was interesting and amusing. The boat docked at Seward, where having arrived by plane, Mrs. Lounsbury was eagerly waiting to take her guests home to Anchorage.

These northern visitors say the country there is beautiful. Among delightful experiences were a weekend at Chitina, deserted old copper-mining town, which now caters to tourists, some good fishing and a party attended by Bonnie the invitation to which read, "wear jeans and bring pajamas."

Mrs. Petersen flew from Anchorage to Seattle and before returning home was a guest of Bert Smith and her sister Mrs. H. C. Kelly.

Ice Follies Premiere September 8

MAE ROSS
Mae Ross, lovely star of the all-star Shipsteads and Johnson Ice Follies of 1950 which has its world premiere September 8 at the Pan-Pacific, Los Angeles, is a self-made ice star.

Titian-haired Mae was headed for a career in the movies until she saw the Ice Follies. Then it was ice skating and nothing else for the curvaceous young lady.

She was 15 years old at the time and was quite a talented dancer. But her dancing and acting career were forgotten and Mae studied figure skating. It took her a short six months and she was signed by the Ice Follies for a starring role.

Suggestions Offered To Women

Two out of three men are dependent upon a woman for the clothes they wear. Men pay the bills, but their wives make the choice. That's what statisticians show, according to Ruth Brindze in the September Journal of Living.

Clever wives are subtle about selecting their husband's clothes. Masculine vanity being what it is, the ideal mate lets her husband think she's merely advising, not doing the real choosing.

But since most women do choose the clothes of their men-folks, the Journal of Living offers a few suggestions to the ladies.

If the man in your life is of average height, he can wear either a single or double-breasted suit. If he is stout, a three-button, single-breasted jacket is most flattering. If he is short, choose a two-button, single-breasted jacket to make him look taller. And if he is tall, a double-breasted jacket with broad lapels is flattering.

So far as color is concerned, every man looks well in blue, and a blue suit is right for almost every business and social occasion.
